

The Five Boro Electrical Contractors Association

The Five Boro Electrical Contractors Association of New York represents all facets of the electrical contracting business in New York. From electrical contractors, lighting manufacturers, electrical supply houses and more, Five Boro is populated by a progressive-minded, cross-section of professionals within our industry.

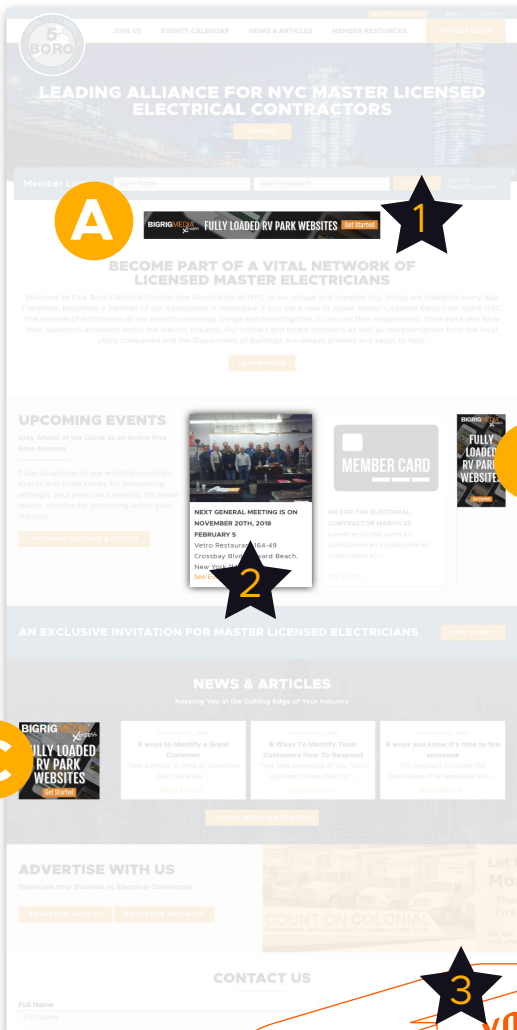

With a growing alliance of engineers and architects, Five Boro serves as an advocate and resource for members to stay current with the latest information and trends. Our regular meetings and events allow for great networking with like-minded professionals.

Five Boro was founded 62 years ago to help the licensed electrical contractor. We have recently opened our doors to other individual professionals and corporations working within the electrical industry. Five Boro continues to promote fellowship and good will to our association members within the New York construction market.

We encourage you to advertise with us and become part of our dynamic organization.

Nick Campisano, President
